Mr. Stelios Kyriakides,
New York City.

Dear Stelios:

Now that you are leaving for home after your very successful visit in the United States, I want to tell you that it gave me great pleasure to be of some little service to you during your stay here, and I hope that you feel that the service which I was able to render you did, in some measure, contribute toward your victory in the Boston Marathon. If so, I feel proud and happy and amply repaid.

I assure you that your visit here and your success in the marathon followed by the excellent work you did on your visits to various Greek communities, has helped tremendously in stimulating Greek Americans to try and emulate you, and I feel confident as a result, many young Greek Americans will come out for track and field and long distance running in the United States.

Wishing you a pleasant journey home, and hoping that we will have the pleasure of another visit from you in the near future, I am,

Sincerely yours,

F. Vasilopoulos
