PORTAL Journal of Multidisciplinary International Studies

Portal Journal of Multidisciplinary International Studies is a fully peer-reviewed journal dedicated to the publishing of scholarly articles from practitioners of—and dissenters from—international, regional, area, migration and ethnic studies, and it is also dedicated to providing a space for the work of cultural producers interested in the internationalization of cultures. International Studies in Portal refers to studies of contemporary societies and cultures in relation to processes of transnationalization, polyculturation, transculturation, transmigration, globalization, and anti-globalization, and to material and imaginative responses by people and communities to those processes. Portal aims to achieve a genuinely multidisciplinary mix of approaches to international studies by scholars working in the Humanities, Social Sciences, and Cultural Studies, and by cultural producers working anywhere. The journal's commitment to fashioning a genuinely "international" studies venue is also reflected in our willingness to publish critical and creative work in English as well as in Chinese, Croatian, French, German, Indonesian, Italian, Japanese, Serbian, and Spanish.

Welcome To AJOL!

African Journals OnLine (AJOL) is the world's largest and pre-eminent collection of peer-reviewed, African-published scholarly journals.

Historically, scholarly information has flowed from North to South and from West to East. It has also been difficult for African researchers to access the work of other African academics.

In partnership with hundreds of journals from all over the continent, AJOL works to change this, so that African-origin research output is available to Africans and to the rest of the world.

AJOL is a Non-Profit Organisation based in South Africa.

CONFERENCE: International Conference on Responsible Management Education: Sustainable Leadership in the era of Climate Change

Contributing to the UN Conference on Climate Change (COP15) in December 2009, CBS' Center for Corporate Social Responsibility (cbsCSR) and CBS' Climate Strategies for Business (CBS-CSB) will host an international conference on 'Sustainable Leadership in the Era of Climate Change' in partnership with the UN Principles for Responsible Management Education (PRME) on 23rd-24th November 2009.

Symposium: Games as part of university-level Business Administration and Economics programs

CBS and CBS Learning Lab is hosting a symposium on educational games on November 30 - December 1. Although research about game-based learning is already available since the 1980s, it is still a highly topical issue. Several conferences, research and literature support the application of games as a learning tool. But what is their place in Business Administration and Economics programs at university-level at present?

New book: The Adventures of an IT Leader

Becoming an effective IT manager presents a host of challenges - from anticipating emerging technology to managing relationships with vendors, employees, and other managers. A good IT manager must also be a strong business leader. New book from CBS professor Robert D. Austin (Dept. of Management, Politics and Philosophy).

New book: Client-Consultant Collaboration

New book illustrates the richness and excitement that takes place not only in research on consulting but also in its application as the various empirical analyses of consulting in practice portray. Behind the volume are CBS professor Flemming Poulfelt (Dept. of Management, Politics and Philosophy) and Professor Anthony F. Buono (Bentley College, USA).

New book: Teaching Cultural Skills - Coping with Complexity and Change

A 'cultural' dimension is today increasingly taught at universities as a supplement to disciplines that have not traditionally paid much attention to culture. Universities are competing to produce graduates with a 'global mindset' who are well equipped to cope in multicultural, team-oriented workplaces. Edited by the Associate Professors Maribel Blasco and Mette Zølner from Department of Intercultural Communication and Management.
