

Access IT e-learning courses - overview of an educational offering dedicated for small memory institutions

από τον Adam Dudczak - AccessIT Technical Support and Trainer Training

The aim of the Access IT project is to help small memory institutions to develop their digital libraries and connect them with Europeana. In order to achieve this, two on-line educational courses were prepared: "Digital repositories for small memory institutions" and "Cooperation with Europeana".

The educational content of these courses was designed to enable small memory institution to expose and promote digital form of their local cultural heritage as a part of the Europeana network. This presentation will provide an overview of Access IT courses background, their final structure and content and ways these courses can be used.
