

'THE HOUR HAS STRUCK'

OLYMPICS
BACK PAGE

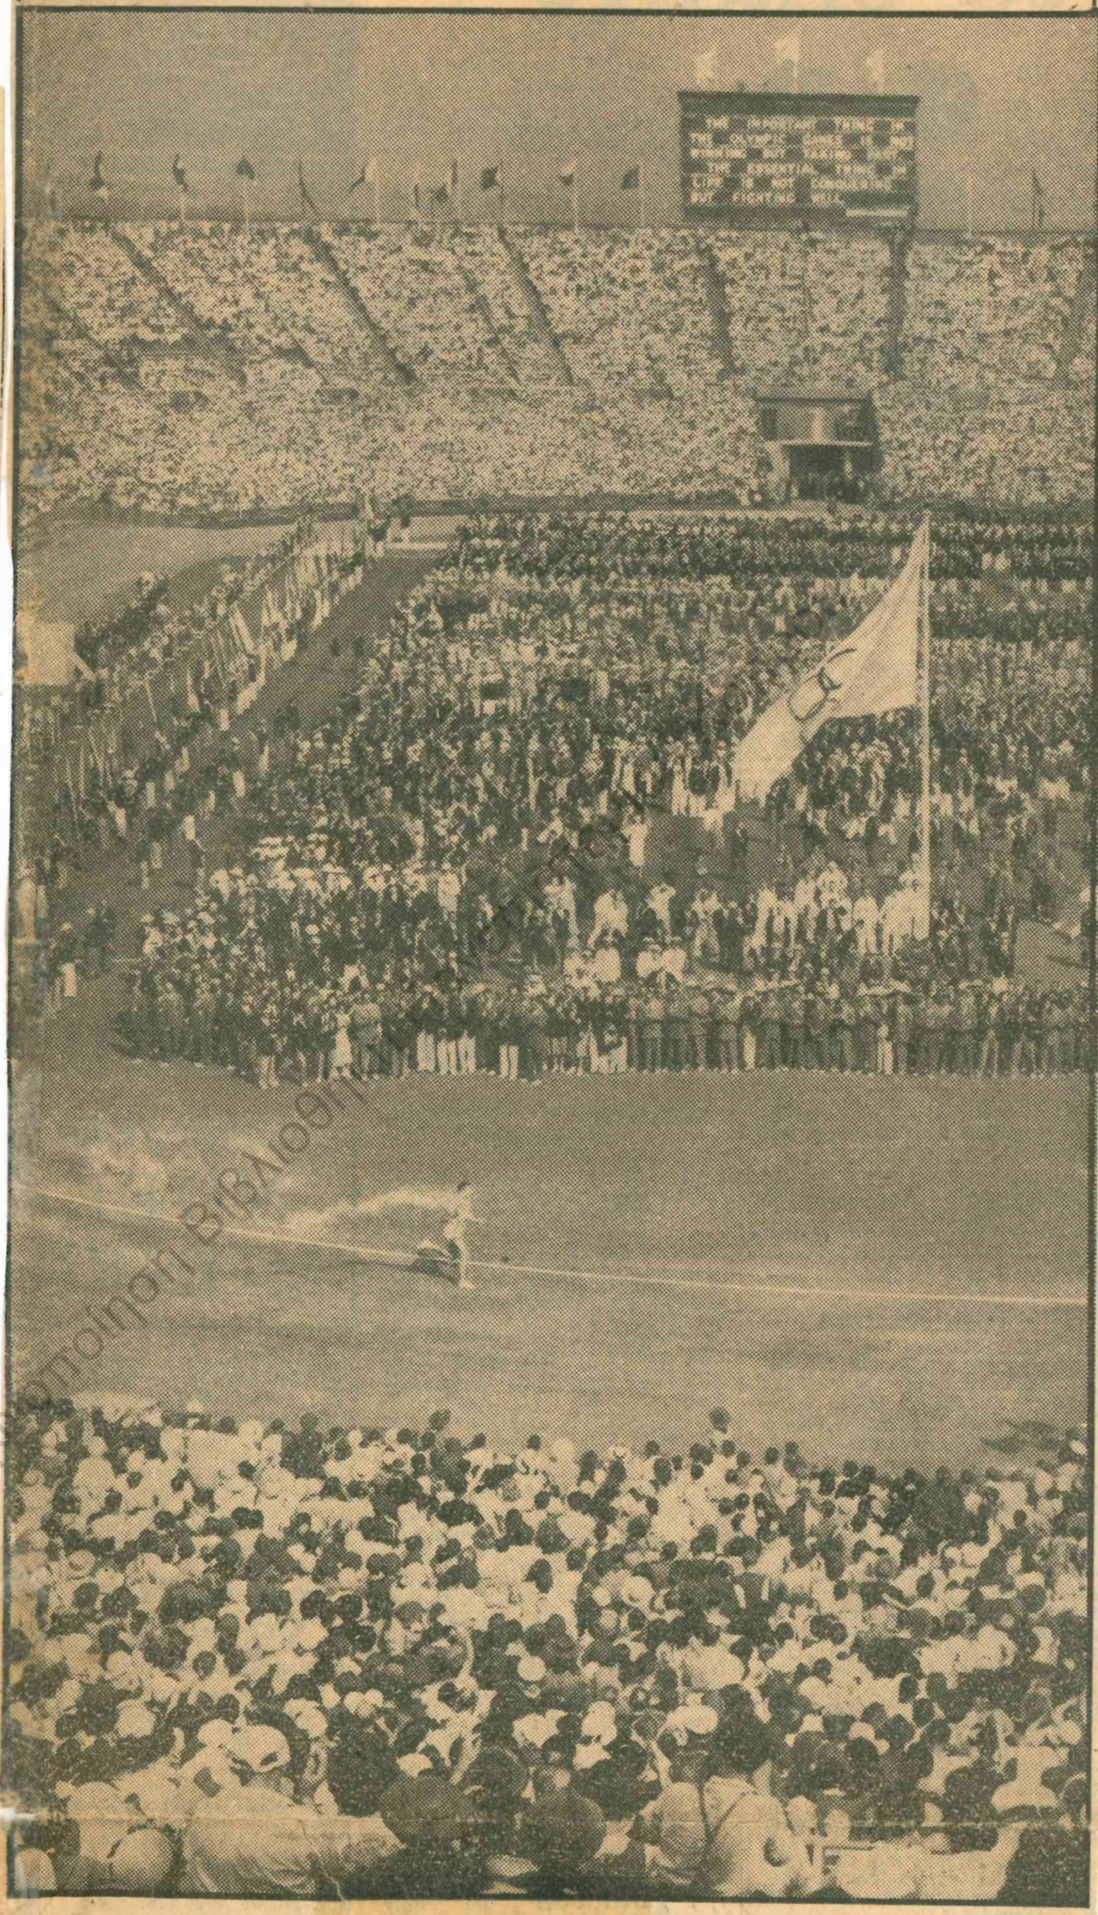

FRIDAY, JULY 30, 1948

Daily Mail

FOR KING AND COMMONWEALTH

PENNY

AFTER the parade of the athletes at Wembley yesterday ; after Lord Burghley's "The hour has struck" ; after the King's declaration that the Fourteenth Olympiad was open, a runner in white appeared bearing the Olympic flame on the last stage of its journey from the Temple of Zeus. The runner lapped the track. Here is the scene, in the India-like sun,