

BERLIN OLYMPICS

To the Editor of the Manchester Guardian

Sir,—While the Olympic Games are on in London I thought your readers might be interested to see a list of the compulsory lectures sent to me in answer to my application to act as an interpreter in the Olympic Games at Berlin in 1936.

From this you can see how interpreters were "trained" for the Olympic Games.

The idea of National Socialism
State forms of the other nations.
The racial question and Jewry.
What has Adolf Hitler achieved?
Reichsautobahn.
Labour Service.
The German Labour Front and National Socialist People's Welfare Service.
Economic questions and layout of Berlin.

—Yours, &c., ELFRIEDE KLOSE.
