

Z-MIOZFI

The parents of Erasmia, Yannis and Maria Meitanis (the Ioannou family). The photo was taken in 1960 when her father has decided to take off the traditional Cypriot costume (vraka) and wear trousers.

Photograph of the engagement of George and Erasmia Elisseou, taken in 1959 in Keryneia.

The house built by George and Erasmia in which they were going to live in, a few days before the Turkish invasion, in 1974. It is still occupied by the Turkish occupation forces as well as the rest of their property in Keryneia.

George's and Erasmas' family; photo taken in 1972, when they had decided to return to their country and build their house in Keryneia. From left to right, six year old Evagoras, nine year old Maria and just four year old Elena.

Yannis Metanis, Erasmias father, after he had been displaced from his village forced to live in a hut in Stavros refugee camp in Nicosia.