

time before and after passing Boston College. In each case Pawson added to his own advantage. McCallum, no worse than fifth for twenty-two miles, ran himself right into insensibility a few miles from the tape. A police patrol car carried him in and he was toted into the clubhouse—a small, drawn figure with a white mask for a face and his arms and legs as limp as those of a rag doll.

Stelios Kyriakides, the Greek Olympian and a heavy pre-race favorite, dropped out of the race at the twenty-mile mark after running sixth most of the way. Kyriakides developed blisters on his left foot. No cars were available to bring him into the finish, so he hailed a passing bus, the driver of which allowed him to ride free. The bus, however, was not going far enough so Kyriakides dropped off and thumbed a ride from a motorist who brought him to a spot in Boston where a $1.25 taxi ride brought him into the clubhouse.
