

Bonn, 12 Feb. 1949

My dear Professor G. G. Brown,

I have had the pleasure of reading your paper on the subject of the structure of the nucleus. It is very interesting and I am sure that it will be of great value to your colleagues. I am sure that you will find that the results of your work are in good agreement with those of other workers in the field.
 I am sure that your work will be of great value to the community. I am sure that you will find that the results of your work are in good agreement with those of other workers in the field. I am sure that your work will be of great value to the community. I am sure that you will find that the results of your work are in good agreement with those of other workers in the field.