

You, I want.

You, who gave me happiness when I was unhappy, you, I want to stay near me when I will be dead.

You, who love me very much, you I want to dress me bride and to give the last kiss in my cold lips.

You, I want in my new house to bring many flowers and with a warm tear to save me from the ache.

And when you will hear the smell of the flowers that will be my love which will be always round you ~~that~~ I love you always

Profoundly

19/3/50.