

At the beginning of the 20th century, the first step was to establish a "Committee on the Study of the Negro" in 1915. This was followed by the "Committee on the Negro" in 1925, and the "Committee on the Negro" in 1935. These committees were established to study the Negro and to report on their findings to the public.

